

Geosynthetic Institute

Program Disclaimer

This certification program is meant to assess the basic knowledge of a geosynthetics designer insofar as having been prequalified and then pass a proficiency test on the subject matter. He/she must also be compliant with the dictates of standard professional engineers mandate. An individual's certification is not meant to certify a specific project, or any of the particular idiosyncrasies of unique and site-specific design aspects of a project. Furthermore, certification in the context of the individual designer does not assume that every detail of a project has been detailed, nor does it apply to the project in toto or in part, or to any other personnel involved in design and/or testing of the geosynthetics involved.